

Groomsmen set the stage on fire dancing to 'Uyi Amma' during sangeet, the Internet can't have enough: 'Why should girls have all the fun'

Groomsmen Uyi Amma Viral Dance: A recent video that's racked up over 29 million views on Instagram features a group of six groomsmen dancing to the energetic track at their friend's sangeet ceremony.

Uyi Amma viral dance video: Among all the wedding festivities, the sangeet ceremony continues to be the crown jewel when it comes to viral content on the Internet. Videos of girls delivering picture-perfect choreography to trending tracks often rack up millions of views. But this time, it's the groomsmen who've stolen the show.

A recent video that's garnered over 29 million views on Instagram features a group of six groomsmen dancing to the energetic track Uyi Amma, a popular dance number from the 2025 film Azzad, starring Rasha Thadani. The video was posted by Aman Tiwari, a professional dancer known for his appearances on reality shows like India's Dancing Superstar 2013 and India's Got Talent Season 6 (2017).

In the clip, Tiwari leads his friends in a spirited, slightly quirky, but thoroughly entertaining dance performance at a friend's wedding. The crowd can be heard roaring with excitement in the background as the boys own the stage with their infectious energy.

Tiwari, who choreographed the entire routine, captioned the video: "Why should girls have all the fun." The Internet, clearly, agreed.

A post shared by Aman Tiwari Avdc (@amanavdc)

The comments section lit up with love for the performance, especially for the guy in the white shirt—Tiwari himself. One viewer wrote, "Boys rocked, girls shocked!!! That white guy did excellent." Another said, "Hehe u guys nailed it, nice performance. Watched this on repeat mode. Liked the way you guys carried."

Another user said, "I'm literally watching every single guy according to the cmnt section so I can judge who did the best," while another user dropped a sweet wish: "I wish to see my brothers do this on my wedding day."

Tiwari also shared a second part of the video, where the groomsmen are seen dancing to Peelings from Pushpa 2: The Rule.